

DESIGN FAIRS High Point Market

Renowned as a place to build relations with interior designers, the High Point (14-18 April 2018) proved to be a great show for rug making and President Michael J. Riley saw both the high-end knotted and mid-level machine-made do well, reflecting the attending retailers' positive outlook. Momeni rebranded and cut the ribbon to a brand-new showroom, while a moon with eastern flavour glowed bright on Art Resources' stand. Geometrics continued to be popular, as did blue and grey tones, but we are seeing designs becoming less uniform with a hand-drawn feel and more warm metallic tones.

Renowned as a place to build relations with interior designers, the High Point (14-18 April 2018) proved to be a great show for rug making and President Michael J. Riley saw both the high-end knotted and mid-level machine-made do well, reflecting the attending retailers' positive outlook. Momeni rebranded and cut the ribbon to a brand-new showroom, while a moon with eastern flavour glowed bright on Art Resources' stand. Geometrics continued to be popular, as did blue and grey tones, but we are seeing designs becoming less uniform with a hand-drawn feel and more warm metallic tones.

www.highpointmarket.org

01

04

03 Canterbury rug, Bokara

04 Reverb By Pollack rug, Jaipur Living

05

05 Rugs by Exquisite Rugs

06 Pearl Collection rug, Art Resources

02

03

01 Turkat TK Glacial Sky rug, Tamarian

02 Rivington Collection rug, Stark

06